WHITEHEAD TO LECTURE HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Famous Philosopher To Be Heard in The Chapel

WON BUTLER PRIZE

Recipient of Gold Medal in 1930; Has Written Many Books

On Friday evening, May 11, Dr. Alfred North Whitehead, for the past ten years professor of philosophy at Harvard College, and, since the death of Bertrand Russell, America's leading authority on contemporary psychological and mathematical problems, will speak upon "The Aim of Philosophy", in the College Chapel.

Dr. Whitehead, F.R.S., Sc. D. (Cambridge), Hon. D. Sc. (Manchester), Hon. Ll.D. (St. Andrews) is the author of more than half a score successful books, covering such varied topics as "The Aims of Education", "Religion in the Making", and "The Function of Reason". His most widely acclaimed volumes include his pre-Einstein Theory tome, "The Principle of Relativity", and his "Principia Mathematica", the latter written in 1910 in collaboration with Bertrand Russell.

The 73 year old professor received, in 1930, the Butler gold medal. This award is made every five years by Columbia University for the most distinguished contribution during a five-year period anywhere in the world to philosophy or educational theory. It was presented to Mr. Whitehead for his "critical reinterpretations of classic systems of modern thought," as well as for his philosophical analysis of matural science.

In addition to his work as a philosopher and mathematical logician, Mr. Whitehead is a renowned psychologist, his greatest fame, however, lying in the aforementioned field of scientific research.

Immediately after Mr. Whitehead's address, a reception will be held at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house.

"Macbeth" to Be Produced May 21

Rehearsals are nearing completion for the production of "Macbeth" by Professor Paul A. Fancher's class in Dramatic Interpretation. The Shakespearean drama will be presented on Monday evening, May 21, in the Hall of Commons. The leading roles will be taken by J. D. Ahearn and William G. Roehrick, Jr., who will play the parts of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth respectively.

Both Ahearn and Roehrick have had considerable experience in dramatics. Roehrick is president of Charlatans, and has previously taken the parts of Ophelia in "Hamlet" and Dame Quickly in the "Falstaff" production of last year. Ahearn is also a member of Charlatans and has taken an active part in the productions of that organization in the past three years.

The complete cast of "Macbeth" follows:

Duncan, King of Scotland — John L. Brown
Malcolm, Donaldbain, his sons, Arthur Hengerer, Franklin Ely
Macbeth, Banquo, Generals of the King, J. D. Ahearn, Sol M. Linowitz
Macduff ..... John C. Becker
Lennox ..... Robert Miner
Ross ..... Theodore F. Halsey
Fleance, son of Banquo — Franklin Ely
The Porter ..... Judson B. Hall
Seyton ..... John C. Becker
The Three Witches, Adrian H. Courtenay, William Palmer, John A. Handy
First Murderer .. John B. Byrnes
Second Murderer, William Palmer
Third Murderer, Edward P. Risley
Lady Macbeth — William G. Roehrick, Jr.

Choir to Be Heard Over NBC Network at 4 p. m. Saturday

The eighth public performance of the Hamilton College Choir will be presented Saturday, May 12, when the group will broadcast over the Red Network of the National Broadcasting Company from the studios of Station WSYR in Syracuse. This will be the second broadcast of the year, since the Choir has previously broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System from New York City.

The program will be one of a half hour's duration and will start at 4 p. m., on Saturday. Transportation for all the members of the Choir will be by buses supplied by the Studio itself. Prof. Paul A. Fancher, director of the Choir, will have a group of only about 50 men, since at least seven or eight will be occupied with spring sports teams and other activities which make impossible their accompanying the group for the broadcast. In spite of this fact, Mr. Fancher holds high hopes for a very successful performance, and expresses his opinion that the Choir is now in better form than hitherto this year.

The program varies considerably in arrangement from those of previous concerts and will include the following numbers:

Praise to Our God, Vulpius; Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring, Bach; Adoramus te Christe, Palestrina; Die Ehre Gottes, Beethoven; Wohin, Schubert; Heilig, Schubert; Toro, Grieg; Deep River, Spiritual; Kyrie Eleison, Rheinberger.

GOLF TEAM BEATS MIDDLEBURY, 4-2 IN 2nd VICTORY

Govern Brothers Wins Two Singles Matches to Star For Hamilton

The Hamilton golf team gained its second victory of the season on Friday afternoon, May 4, when it defeated a quartet from Middlebury College by a score of 4-2 in a match played on the Tompkins course at Middlebury. The brilliant playing of the Govern brothers, who have been the backbone of the Buff and Blue team this year, was evident in the contest, both of them winning their individual matches.

In the number 1 match, Dick Govern, playing for Hamilton, easily showed his superiority, turning in a card of 69 to his opponent's 74. Lombardi, number 2 Middlebury man, accounted for the visitors' only victory in the individual matches, when he defeated Dunc Edwards, turning in a 73 to the Hamilton player's 74.

Fred Govern, playing number 3 man for the Buff and Blue, turned in a card of 68, defeating his opponent, 5 and 4. In the last of the individual matches, John Murphy, Hamilton number 4 player, defeated Oleson of Middlebury, 1 up.

The remaining point for the visiting linksmen was gained in the first of the best ball matches when Dunc Edwards paired with Dick Govern and lost to their opponents by two strokes. However, Murphy and Fred Govern were able to win their best ball match without difficulty, and in this way the best ball matches were split.

Elective Cards Are Due May 23

The elective cards for the year 1934-35 will be due at the Office of the President not later than 4:30 Wednesday, May 23, according to a bulletin soon to be posted in the Library.

All cards must be properly filled out in ink, and must conform to the regulations given on pages 28-32 of the Catalogue for 1933-34 and to the Administrative Rules. In addition, the following points must be observed:

Each card must contain five three-hour courses in addition to the Public Speaking courses, neither more nor less. Any course which is to be repeated on account of failure must appear on the card as one of the five. Particular attention is called to the rule which forbids taking an elective course three times in college.

A card accompanied by a petition for a suspension of the rules must contain not the program asked for in the petition but only those courses which will be taken in conformity with the rules, if the petition is denied. Petitions must be submitted on official forms which may be obtained at the Office.

Freshmen who wish assistance in filling out their elective cards may consult Professor Durham; sophomores may consult Professor Marsh or Professor Nesbitt; juniors may consult Professor Ristine.

Tennis Team Bows To Williams, 9-0 For Third Defeat

The Hamilton College tennis team suffered its third straight defeat before a House Party crowd last Saturday at the hands of a powerful Williams team, the visitors sweeping every match in both singles and doubles play. The playing conditions were not very good because of the stiff wind which continually blew dust across the courts and at the same time affected the flight of the balls to a great degree.

The strong Williamstown aggregation made a complete rout of the singles matches, winning all except one of them in two sets. Dick Babcock was the only Hamilton player who extended his opponent to three sets in the singles matches. In the doubles matches the Hill netmen put up a better scrap, forcing the Williams team to go three sets to win each match.

The Hamilton lineup in the doubles was the same that played against Swarthmore and Haverford but in the singles matches Carruth was started instead of Captain Miner who participated only in the doubles matches. In the first singles match Kelleher, Williams, beat Osterhout, Hamilton, 6-2, 6-4. Weld was the next Hill victim, losing to Jones, 6-1, 6-2.

In the third match Hamilton started off well when Babcock won the first set, 6-4. He was, however, unable to keep up his pace, and Phipps evened up with him by copping the next set, 6-3. The third set was hard fought, being extended to extra games with Phipps finally triumphing over Babcock by a score of 9-7.

Carruth, playing his first intercollegiate tennis for Hamilton went down to defeat before Reynolds, 6-3, 6-2. The fifth singles match between Davis, Williams, and Scanlan, Hamilton, was taken by the former, 6-4, 6-3; in the final singles match between G. Smith, Hamilton, and Eddleman, Williams, the latter was victorious, 6-2, 6-2.

The first of the doubles matches was the hardest fought of the three. Kelleher and Jones, Williams, teamed up to play Osterhout and Scanlan, Hamilton. Williams dropped the first set to the Hilmen, 4-6, copped the second one, 6-2, and after going extra games took the last set, 9-7. The Williamstown combination of Phipps and Reynolds beat Weld and Babcock, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. Captain Miner, paired with Rutherford, annexed the first set of their match with Davis and Eddleman, 6-3, but could not stay in the winning column and lost the next two sets, 2-6, 2-6.

On Friday the tennis team will make the second trip of the season when they journey to Springfield to play that team. On the folowing day the squad goes to Amherst to oppose Amherst. As both of these teams are quite good, the Buff and Blue netmen will have to fight hard for every point they get.

Varsity lacrosse practice will continue this week, although there is slight possibility that there will be any scheduled games this year. However, there may be some informal scrimmages with Colgate beginning next week.

UNION BEATS TRACK SQUAD IN FIRST MEET

Garnet Overwhelms Hamilton by Big Margin

DUBE WINS DASH

Scores Only Hamilton Win In 220; Nesbitt Breaks Discus Record

The Hamilton track squad lost its first meet in four years Saturday afternoon before a House Party audience, being swamped by a powerful Union team by a powerful Union team by the score of 102 1-3 to 23 2-3, in the opening meet of the season.

The Buff and Blue outfit, last year's Conference championship team, managed to win but one first place, Dick Dube's victory in the 220-yard dash; and in four events, the javelin, the mile run, the high hurdles, and the 880-yard run, Hamilton was unable to take a single place. Gus Nesbitt of Hamilton, although he only placed third, tossed the discus 123 feet to break the Hamilton College record of 119 feet held by Brockway, '28.

In the field events, the Union men showed their superiority in all but the broad jump, in which Hamilton took the second and third places. In the track events, the Garnet again showed its power as it ran rough-shod over the Hamilton men in all but the dashes. In the longer races, Hamilton proved to be unusually weak, placing but one man, Thomas, who finished third in the two-mile run.

In spite of the unbalanced score, there are the encouraging factors that Union is by far the most powerful team that Hamilton will meet this year, and that all of the Buff and Blue point winners, with the exceptions of Dube, Jones and Nesbitt, were inexperienced sophomores participating in their first intercollegiate meet. It is expected that the new men will show great improvement when they have had the advantage of a season's experience.

This Saturday, May 12, the tracksters travel to Canton to meet St. Lawrence. Coach Winters plans to have his men in good form for the meet, and he expects the Buff and Blue to have a successful day. On the following Saturday, May 19, the annual Conference Meet will be held on the home track when Hamilton will defend its title. The summaries:

100-yard dash—won by Krull, U; Dube, H, second; Saiwits, U, third. Time, 10 seconds.

Prize Play Will Be Given May 10

The date of the production of the Charlatan Prize Play, "Virgin at Large" by William T. Noon, '34, which was to have been given in the Hall of Commons, Wednesday evening, May 2, has been advanced to Thursday evening, May 17, directly after Choir practice. Unforeseen difficulties in the staging caused the delay of this long-awaited presentation. The play is a farce, the scene being laid backstage on the night of one of the annual Miracle Plays.

The following men make up the cast: Rowe, William T. Noon; Ranger, William G. Roehrick; Harvey, Griffith Jones; Holiday, John L. Brown; Hughes, Gardner Smith; Pritcher, Adrian H. Courtenay; Merton, Judson B. Hall; Collins, George P. Bates. Professor Rudd has taken charge of the coaching.

"Continental" Is Issued on May 5 For House Party

Self-styled the "House Party Number, the long-heralded, all humor issue of the "Continental" made its appearance on the campus during the opening hours of the past week-end. This was the last issue to be published by the now-retired board, as John Bates and Judson Hall, new editor and associate editor, respectively, will take over the reins for the forthcoming Commencement issue.

A cover by Robert Matteson, and a frontispiece by Carl Ferry, are supplemented with two articles by Frank N. McInerney, '36, one of which deals with the diary of a typical "Big Man Around College", and the second of which has to do with a not-so-typical episode in a smoking car. Other prose writings consist of a short story by the retiring editor, Daniel J. Kennedy, and a take-off on a faculty meeting by John H. Bates, the present incumbent of the editor's chair. Short sketches bearing a direct relation to the activities of the past week-end include "Saturday Noon," by Loyd Dunning, "Arma Virumque Gertie," by Walter Robinson, and "Our Little Two-legged Friends," by Theodore Jenks.

The poetry department is considerably brightened by David R. Cochran's, "The Epicurean to his Love," probably the best of Mr. Cochran's poems to date. The only other contributions to this side of the "Continental," include short poems by one "Sir Jer," and by Samuel Engs, II, the only freshman to have published a piece of writing during the current school year.

Less classifiable, but no less interesting, are Judson Hall's "Monadology, or the Perfect Alibi," and its lighter counterpart, "A Slang Dictionary," by Benjamin B. Hickok, '36.

Ahearn Elected Charlatan's Head

At a meeting of the Charlatans Executive Committee held last Tuesday, Joseph Donald Matthew Ahearn, '35, was elected president of the organization for the coming year. Ahearn has been prominently connected with dramatics for the past three years, and is also a member of the varsity debate squad. He is affiliated with the Emerson Literary Society.

Also elected at this time were members of the new Board, including Sol Linowitz, Judson B. Hall, '35, George Bates, Fendall W. Yerxa, '36. Edward P. Risley, '35, is to be stage manager for the coming year, and George Minor, '36, will be his assistant. Professors Fancher and Rudd will continue to act in an advisory capacity to the board.

It has also been announced by William G. Roehrick, Jr., outgoing president, that the following people are eligible to receive Charlatan keys: Wm. E. Price, '34; Edward P. Risley, John Bates, '35; B. J. Hickok, F. W. Yerxa, G. Bates, J. T. Dunn, '36.

TWO HUNDRED FIFTY GUESTS ENJOY BEAUTIFUL WEATHER, SUCCESSFUL HOUSE PARTIES

BASEBALL SQUAD LOSES 1st GAME WITH ROCHESTER

Flower City Team Wins by Close Score in Poorly Played Game

Featuring Hans Brinker, star Rochester twirler, the U. of R. baseball nine journeyed here on Saturday and forced the Buff and Blue to bow, 11-10, in a sloppy, loosely played game which was replete with errors by both teams.

With John Betts, the sophomore pitcher whose ability was first tested in the encounter against Amherst, on the mound for Hamilton, the Flower City batters found the Clinton twirler for three runs in the first inning, building up a lead which the home team could not cut down until its half of the sixth frame. Ed. Kellogg, '36, replaced Betts on the mound in the seventh, but failed to check the tide of heavy hitting launched against him, as the Rochester batmen pounded out his pitches for three hits and three runs in the eighth inning and sent the visitors into a lead which a desperate two run scoring spurt by Hamilton in the same inning failed to equalize.

Skinner started things going for the visitors in the first inning with a clear hit through Gummerson, Hamilton left fielder, and was followed at bat by Fisher, playing the same post for the U. of R., whose hit advanced Skinner to third and paved the way for Stewart's three-bagger, which drove in both runners.

Faced with a three run deficit, Hamilton came to bat and, after having two men retired by Brinker, finally found the opposing pitcher when Bicknell connected and reached first on a clean hit through center field. Harding's fly to the same garden post was muffed by Stewart, and both Hamilton runners had scored before Rochester could pull itself together and retire its opponents.

An error by Glendening, Hamiton right fielder, in the second inning, and a home run by Fisher, left fielder for Rochester, in the fifth, yielded the visitors two runs in the next four frames, while excellent pitching by Brinker and temporarily errorless support from his teammates kept the Hamilton men off the bases and maintained the three-point lead which the Rochester team had already accumulated over Hamilton.

Snapping out of its brief lethargy, Hamilton again threatened in its half of the sixth when Shinn knocked out a hit to center field and reached third on Gummerson's hit. White's bunt landed the Hamilton third baseman on the initial sack and on the same play Shinn crossed the plate for the first in a series of three runs. It was Gummerson's turn next to score, as Brinker lost control and let slip a wild one over the catcher's head, yielding Hamilton its second tally of the inning. An error, this time by Exter, first baseman, gave White his chance to romp around the bases, but Brinker settled down after walking Betts and retired the side, leaving the score tied at 5-5.

Rochester came back in the seventh when Fisher started the batters with a walk and advanced to second when Derby landed safe on first via an error by Bob Shinn, Hamilton first baseman. Fisher ran the final gauntlet safely when Harding missed a pitch from Betts and Fisher crossed on Stewart's bunt. Exter accounted for the inning's final tally by means of a double error by White and Harding.

The scoring honors for the seventh were even, for Hamilton converted three hits into runs in the same frame. Bicknell's two-bagger put the Hamilton team near another score when Harding hit to right field, advancing Bicknell. Brinker at this point again lost control, allowing both Hamilton

Anuual Spring Event Held Under Good Conditions

D.T. PRESENTS SKIT

Perfect weather greeted 250 guests last week-end at the annual Spring House Party, the culmination of a week of fraternal lawn-mowing, window-washing, and house-cleaning. Most of the guests arrived on the Hill on Friday afternoon, and the first entertainment began with dinner on Friday evening at several of the houses.

Party officially commenced Friday evening with the formal dances, and the music was furnished at the different fraternities by an unusual number of fine orchestras. The moonlight and the warm air seemed to encourage the guests' travelling, and gave the Hamilton men an opportunity to renew their acquaintance with their classmates whom they had lost track of during the lang winter.

Following the track meet with Union College on Saturday afternoon, a tea dance was held by the D. T. Club at Sigma Phi Place, to the music of Billy VonZehle and his orchestra. The guests enjoyed the presentation of a skit written by Frank N. McInerney, '36, called "The Judgment of Paris", James H. Frear at the piano.

Griffith Jones was the reader, and he related this burlesque of an old Greek legend, the action of which took place on the old Olympus' treeless top. Paris, the gallant hero, was played by Harry P. Massoth, who entered leading two animals, played by Baldwin and Eisenhardt.

Following the sheep were two vestal virgins in the persons of Frederick B. Griffin and Isaac Sharpless, who were charmingly gowned in blue taffeta with hats and slippers to match. By the time "Hebe" Hands and a Greek god, played by Amsden, had arrived, the group decided to have a picnic. The guests were "Cupid" Bradford and the Goddesses "Minerva" Van Loan, "Juno" Estabrook, and "Aphrodite" Johnson.

Paris's chore was to decide who was the most beautful of the three goddesses, and he had a difficult time, for they were all seemly to behold and fair of form and figure. But Paris decided upon a crucial test by which he would render judgment. So each goddess displayed ever so daintily her lily-white feet, and in this ordeal, all met defeat except "Aphrodite" Johnson.

On Saturday evening closed dances were held at all the fraternities, and on Sunday the guests departed, while the hosts spent the rest of the day sleeping, after having enjoyed an extremely successful House Party.

WHAT PRICE PUBLIC SPEAKING?

The announcement in Chapel this morning of the awards—or rather, the lack of awards—in the prize orations competitions has shown undergraduate interest in public speaking to be at what is probably the lowest ebb in the history of the college. The Clark Prize is a Hamilton tradition, and appointees to this contest gain a certain distinction in the eyes of all Hamilton undergraduates and alumni; and yet, only eight orations were submitted in competition for this historic prize, from which the reading committee was unable to find six as suitable for presentation in the traditional K. P. Commencement exercises. What is more, none of the orations submitted in the Pruyn or Head Prize competitions was deemed worthy of the award offered, and not a single paper was written for the Kirkland Prize.

What is to be done, we do not profess to know. The fact that undergraduates are unwilling to bestir themselves sufficiently to write a twelve-hundred-word oration for a fifty or seventy-five dollar prize is little short of amazing, and it would seem to be a fairly certain indication of one thing—the Hamilton undergraduate has reached the saturation point in public speaking.

All of which, of course, leads us back to the old subject of the place of debate in the college curriculum. The intercollegiate debates which are held at the college are considered as overwhelming successes if there are ten or fifteen people present. And yet, year after year, money is spent by the college to finance the trips of debate teams to other colleges—money which, we feel sure, could be expended to a much better purpose. But what are we to do? As we see it, there are two alternatives: either classroom or intercollegiate debates must be cut.

It is undeniable that certain benefits accrue to the Hamilton alumnus who has had the required four years of public speaking offered at this college, and it is neither to our intentions nor to our purposes to go into a discussion of these now. Debate, therefore, it would seem, has a definite place in the courses offered by the public speaking department.

But now let us look at the other alternative. Does undergraduate interest in intercollegiate debating warrant the expenditure of funds to cover the travelling expenses of six or seven debate teams a year? Most certainly not; the attendance at all home debates is the most certain proof of that.

We therefore believe that the program of intercollegiate debating should be cut in the first steps toward the retrenchment of Hamilton College public speaking. The money could certainly be devoted to a better purpose—we imagine that the Charlatans, for instance, could make use of it without too much trouble, and there are innumerable places where its expenditure would be more harmonious with undergraduate interests.

Alumni Notes

By Professor Edward Fitch

Grosvenor W. Heacock, '06, son of the late Seth G. Heacock, '80, died at his home in Ilion, N. Y., April 28, following an attack of acute indigestion. He was for many years associated with his father in various business enterprises in Ilion and vicinity, and in Buffalo. In 1821 he became president of the Manufacturers National Bank of Ilion. During the World War he was fuel administrator for Herkimer County, and for five years he was chairman of the Republican County Committee. He was a member of Alpha Delta Phi. His wife and five children survive, the oldest being Grosvenor W. Heacock, Jr., '29.

Library Bulletins Meet With Favor

The recent experiment carried out by the College library in issuing bulletins listing the purchases of new books has been particularly gratifying. The bulletins were sent out to the faculty, the alumni, and the fraternities on the Hill, and the response has been very encouraging, particularly from the alumni who are living in the smaller towns, and who do not have access to the larger libraries.

The college librarian, Professor Joseph D. Ibbotson, hopes that any alumnus who reads this column, and who has not received the bulletin, will please notify the librarian, who will be glad to send him the circular list of the books.

Bulletins were also mailed to the small village libraries in the vicinity of Hamilton College, and were found very useful, for several requests have been made for volumes, especially those containing historical material and nonfiction.

MUSICAL ART SOCIETY CHOSES NEW MEMBERS

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the Musical Art Society, held April 27, Professor Shute was re-elected president of the Board, Professor A. P. Saunders, secretary, and Professor Fancher, treasurer. The new undergraduate members, who were elected from the present sophomore class to take the place of the retiring seniors. Coleman Burke and William G. Roehrick, Jr., are Charles L. Case and Warren R. Montgomery. Case is a member of Chi Psi and Montgomery of Alpha Delta Phi. George L. Rutherford, Jr., and William E. Weld, Jr., who were elected last year and who retain their positions during next year, are the members from the present junior class.

Coach Arthur Winters, a member of the physical education staff of Hamilton College, was among the speakers at an athletic banquet at Rome last week.

CARPE DIEM

McInnermi....McImerny....Oh, bother, the squint-eyed funny man from DKE has won the Carpe Thundermug for Annual Spring H. P. C. (House Party Complexities). Sunday morning he looked as if he'd just been initiated into D. T., so we asked him what was up.

"Oh....nothing. I had two girls and neither of them knew that the other was with me. When a fellow would cut me at the Chi Psi Lodge, I'd have to run over to the Alpha Delt Hall and cut my other girl. It wouldn't have been so bad, but I was breaking in a new pair of shoes."

Little Ted Throckmorton still thinks that the band at the Deke House was colored. The joke's on him all right, all right.

The Charlatans are farming "Balone" VanLoan out to a New York Stock Company after his hit in D. T.'s classic production, "The Sack of Paris".

And the Dean tells this one himself:

Tom Ristine: Mother, I'll have to go to school early tomorrow to get the answer to one of these questions about "Julius Caesar".

Mother R.; Why don't you ask Daddy, Tommy?

Tom R.: Shucks, Mom, I want to get it right this time.

Faculty-Senior Bridge—Edwards & Fraser vs. "Danny" Dealey & "Swampy" Marsh. Tables rotate—Edwards & Fraser leave.

Danny: Who was that big-looking fellow we were just playing with?

The Swamp: Why that was Duncan Edwards, junior!

Dan: I thought I'd seen him someplace.

Morgan: What did Dewey say about the Implications of Human Association?

Student: You may fire when ready, Gridley!

Preacher Delivers Interesting Talk

Basing his words on a passage from First Corinthians, "Those who run in a race, run all, but only one can win", Dr. Willard B. Soper of the Hugenot Memorial Church stressed the importance of good sportsmanship Sunday morning in the Chapel. Good sportsmanship, said Dr. Soper, is the ability to be a good winner and a good loser with the emphasis paced on the latter quality.

He continued by pointing out the three ways in which our personal defeats in life may be handled with the most harmful results, and the one method by which they maintaining faith in ourselves and should be handled—that is, by a spirit of good will in relation to others. The thing which helps us to maintain faith above all, is the religion of Jesus Christ. The more we have of the true spirit of religion, the more ability we will have to show ourselves in defeat as a true sportsman.

Luckies are always in All-Ways kind to your throat

so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends that's why you'll find Luckies do not dry out

We like to tell about the finer tobaccos in Luckies—the choicest Turkish and domestic, and only the mild, clean center leaves—they taste better—then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. But we're just as proud of the way Luckies are made. They're so round and firm, so free from loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Luckies are always—in all-ways!—kind to your throat.

BASEBALL SQUAD LOSES TO ROCHESTER

runners to tally. Shinn's hit followed Throckmorton's strike-out and, as Exter let another ball slip past him, the Hamilton first baseman managed to round the bases before Hamilton had three outs chalked against it. Throckmorton's error in judging a line drive to right field in the eighth inning allowed Skinner to round the bases with ease. Fisher's hit and stolen base put the Rochester left fielder on second before Stewart's home run, coming in the nick of time, drove in the two runs and yielded the visitors their final count of the contest.

Hamilton's attempt in the eighth and ninth to tie the score was valiant but vain, as Brinker and his teammates held the Buff and Blue to two runs by Sliter and Harding in the eighth, and the Rochester twirler accounted for three straight strike-outs in the ninth period.

After three days' of intensive drilling, in which time the many errors of Saturday's contest will be emphasized, the team is slated to clash with Oberlin here on Thursday, and, following another day's practice, to meet with State Teachers on the home diamond on Saturday.

—they age good grapes to make rare wines

—and they do something like that to mellow good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

Everything that modern Science really knows about is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
